POPPY APPEAL - VOLUNTEERS WANTED

Can you spare just two hours of your time this year to help raise funds for the Poppy Appeal? With many collectors now way beyond retirement age it is important that we recruit a younger generation to help with this very worthwhile cause. Money raised for the Poppy Appeal is used not just for surviving members of the last World War and their dependants but also for current serving personnel.

Working in partnership with the Ministry of Defence and Help for Heroes we have given a commitment of £30 million to provide and operate the Battle Back Centre, an adaptive sports and outdoor facility based in Lilleshall in the West Midlands. We have pledged a further £20 million towards the 10 year operating costs of four Personnel Recovery Centres (PRC) in the UK - in Catterick, Colchester, Edinburgh and Tidworth - and an additional facility in Germany. These facilities will support our brave Service men and women returning from conflicts in Afghanistan and around the world, by helping them regain their physical and mental fitness. For those now facing life with serious physical and psychological issues, these facilities will help them recover and retrain for either a return to duty or a seamless transition to civilian life.

The Legion has partnered with Dementia UK to provide a new nursing service to support sufferers and carers. The focus of the service is to give dementia patients a better quality of life, and for carers and families to get the practical support and advice they need. The Legion is working with Admiral Nurses who have the experience to facilitate the initiative every step of the way. Initially operating in Lancashire and the West Midlands, a nationwide roll out is planned over the next two years. Legion beneficiaries can be either the person with dementia or the carer.

The Armed Forces community is facing a "perfect storm" of health and welfare needs in coming years as the legacy of Afghanistan and Iraq combine with defence cuts and strains on public sector support, according to Legion research conducted in 2010. Family life in the Armed Forces comes with unique pressures which can include bereavement, injury and long-term separation. Meanwhile, as a result of a reduction in the size of the Armed Forces, many young Service leavers with families will be embarking on civilian life in the most difficult economic times in recent history. Some will be medically discharged and need assistance, while others will be dealing with the isolation, loneliness and depression that can result from dis-location. At the same time, the ageing World War II generation's need for help will also be at its peak.

By 2020, the research estimates 1.8 million people in the Armed Forces community will be living with long-standing illness; 800,000 will be isolated socially, having little contact with family or friends; and 700,000 will be living below the poverty line.

Above is just a very small part of what the Poppy Appeal is committed to for both serving and ex service personnel. If you are able to help with the Poppy Appeal this year, please contact Gill Dartford on 07733065988 or at 12 Dove Close, Fenstanton. Any amount of time that you can spare will be greatly appreciated.

For further information on the Poppy Appeal go to www.poppy.org.uk.

As the days shorten and summer's great flowering begins to dwindle, the plants of gardens, fields and hedgerows are getting ready to ensure the next generation, developing capsule collections of diverse seed shapes and ingenious dispersal methods.

Cranesbill, the common name for Geranium pratense refers to the elongated column of the seed capsule, thought to resemble the beak of a crane. When the seeds are ripe and the structure dry enough to create sufficient tension, the five sheath strips peel up the column at great speed and, like a medieval trebuchet, catapult the seeds far away from the parent plant which might otherwise shade out next year's seedlings. In fact on a still, warm day you can often hear seedpods exploding. For example, the side of a lupin seedpod facing the sun dries out quicker than the other side, so the unequal tension causes the seedpod to buckle and pop open, twisting up to resemble sheep's horns and expelling the seeds. The same process occurs in many other bean family (Leguminosae) plants, including sweet peas and gorse, but the loudest pops belong to spurges in the Euphorbiaceae family – the seed capsule comprises three compartments and as the joint walls dry out the pod splits open suddenly and the seeds are shot out.

By contrast, the autumn sky becomes a silent stage for a balletic display of all sorts of floating and winged seeds – the beautiful paired propellers of maple samaras wheel about with the downy parachutes of a great many daisy family (Compositae) members, especially the knapweeds, thistles and dandelions. And then there are the movers, like the velcro seeds of teasel that hitch a ride on passersby, and the shakers, like the pepperpots of poppies and love-in-the mist. The ability to 'bagsy' suitable germination spots on the ground also confers a great advantage, and seeds of successful weeds like wild oats (Avena fatua) make sure they get the best spots. One of the bracts enclosing the seed of this grass has a long bristle attached that develops a right-angle bend due to uneven thickening in the cell walls. On the ground, if the bristle becomes wet it straightens and makes the seed roll over, bending and twisting once more as it dries out again. These hygroscopic movements cause the seeds to wriggle around until they fall into a crack in the earth and then drill the oat seed into the ground, which is now perfectly placed for spring germination.

Plants in the daisy family produce fly away seeds

The Botanic Garden is a great place for exploring all these different seed dispersal strategies. One of the most impressive is the squirting cucumber, Ecballium elaterium, a common weed of Mediterranean roadsides which we grow on the Systematic Beds. The bristly seedpod balloons with water until the pressure is so great that the slightest touch triggers the pod to shoot off, expelling the hard black seeds and a jet of water in the exhaust!

The Botanic Garden is open all through the autumn and winter, closing at 5 pm in October and at 4pm from November- January 10am – 4pm. Adult admission is £4.50 (Gifaid admission £4.95) or join the Friends, get free admission & help the Garden grow! For news and events, detailed information about the Garden or to discover this week's Plant Picks from the Head of Horticulture, please visit the website at www.botanic.cam.ac.uk

Does anyone know any individual, business or farmer who could help us solve our urgent storage issue? As the Group continues to thrive and grow it means we need more kit!

We are still looking for suitable storage somewhere in the Fenstanton / Hilton / Elsworth/ Fen Drayton / St Ives (the bit nearest to Fenstanton) area.

To see if you, or anyone you know, might be able to help here is a loose definition of requirements / use:

Access is on an “as and when” basis but except in an emergency would never be after 8.30pm or before 9.00am (it is mostly evenings or weekends).

In the summer months access might be three or four times a month, the rest of the year less often.

Space needs to be dry, secure and have (or have space for us to install) some racking. This could be somewhere existing (such as a garage or workshop), somewhere that needs some work (such as a barn or outbuilding) or simply land for us to install a suitable structure / container on.

An absolute minimum space is the area of typical single garage, but something more like a double garage (or larger) would be ideal.

Kit is brought / returned in vehicles ranging from private cars to a Bedford type van, and we have a small trailer too.

We can arrange our own insurance for the items stored, and the structure if we provide it.

Somewhere on a property which has frequent other users / passers by (for security).

Only authorised individuals (these are nominated leaders and supporters who all have CRB clearance through the Scout Association) require access, although on occasions parent and young people may be asked to help load / unload (if required names could be provided in advance / some sort of pass issued).

A formal / informal agreement can be drawn up if required and could include any nominal rent required (although please note this could be written off for tax purposes as a donation as we have charitable status), waiver over public liability issues etc and / or be for a specified period (minimum ideally 5 to 10 years).

Yours in hope, on behalf of the Beavers, Cubs, Scouts, Young Leaders and Adults!

FENSTANTON BOWLS CLUB

I DON'T BELIEVE IT!!!

The outdoor bowls season is at an end (except for President's Day on 22nd September when we close up the club house and green for the winter months. It has been, as you all know, an atrocious season weather wise but we have managed to complete all our league and club competitions with mixed results! We had wonderful evening on 29th August for Joan and Heather's memorial game (the weatherman said it would be sunny at 6pm. and it was!!). David and Dennis were Captains of the women for the evening and guess what? The result was a DRAW. Good fun bowling, nice buffet and lots of laughter throughout and everyone went home happy (I didn't think we could get 61 women in our club house but we did!!)

FINALS DAY came to a conclusion on Saturday 8th September, thanks to a couple of our bowlers playing 3 or 4 games in one day well done!!

Congratulations to all our winners and runners up

FENSTANTON WI

We almost had a full house at our meeting on Thursday September 6th and what an evening of fun we had.

Our speaker, Tracey Ward, has worked for 'Colour Me Beautiful' for 25 years and by using some of us as 'models' demonstrated how to use colour co-ordination when buying clothes and accessories. Hair, Skin and eye colour, our figure and personality are all taken into consideration.

Claire was chosen for her light colouring and Gill for dark and we saw immediately that deeper dark colours suited Claire and light pastel colours suited Gill.

Becky is in the same company as Kate Winslet needing more muted colours which are soft and warm whilst Susan needed bright, pure and strong colours. Daphne proved to be more difficult and a bit of an enigma. Tracey could not decide as Daphne was on the cusp. She tried Daphne with cool colours but in the end decided soft muted colours suited her best. Soft muted? Not exactly Daphne's personality!

Ruby with her striking colouring was another challenge for Tracey, but in the end she decided Ruby could get away with any colours.

Daphne Loveday gave the Vote of Thanks.

FENSTANTON OVER 60'S

On Wednesday 22nd August, Kath one of our members gave a talk on lace making, one of her hobbies which she illustrated with a selection of her own delicate and beautiful handwork.

On Tuesday 4th September thirteen of our members met at the Marsh Harrier St Ives for an enjoyable meal.

At our regular meeting on the following day we had a very interesting talk by Rosemary Wheeler who was a lady Butcher, from the age of fifteen working in the family business, during and after the 2nd World War, she brought with her an array of fearsome tools all of which she herself had used when, because another member of the family was "called up" for the armed forces, she had to take his place.

We have several more interesting afternoons during the remainder of the year, so come along and give us a try.

We meet at 2pm at Fenstanton United Reformed Church, Chequer Street

HILTON WI

Plans are in full swing for next month's 'bit of a do' when Hilton WI will be holding a special Ruby Anniversary celebration meeting. It promises to be a very special occasion and one of the items to mark the event will be a superb cloth which is being embroidered by our members. Masterminded by Donna, members have each been given two squares of material, one white and a smaller red one, to incorporate into any design they wish and when all are gathered in they will be joined together to make a magnificent patchwork to mark Hilton WI's 40 years. Many beautiful specimens of the worked squares so far completed, all different, were on show at our September meeting and in the next couple of weeks Donna and her team will be stitching together the cloth which we hope will be on display at our AGM/Ruby Celebration as a lasting heirloom for future Hilton WI generations. We hope that all our members will be present at this special meeting when everyone is asked to wear something red to mark the occasion. (I have my red shirt all ready and waiting!) Some special refreshments will be served and to mark the occasion, Jackie Daniels, who is a WI Adviser, will be our guest and will give a talk about the history of WI, reminding us why we are all such staunch supporters of the movement.

Our speaker for September was Nutritional Therapist Ann Pinkney. Ann is a member of the British Association of Nutritional Therapists and sees clients of all ages at her clinic at home. Her talk encompassed going from stress to strength by taking more care of our nutrition; the mysteries of examining our tongues (we were all given a small mirror with which to examine it) and nails, and through a checklist of body types, advised us on the use of supplements in our diet. We were left musing on our body types and the merits of probiotics.

Our next meeting on 8th October will also be our AGM. If you live in Hilton and are not already a Hilton WI Member and feel tempted to join us, why not ring our Secretary Ruth Salem on 830358 who will be pleased to hear from you.

HILTON FEAST WEEK

What a marvellous week that was. Feast Week supported the Diamond Jubilee, a glamorous Hilton Ball, Produce Show, Float procession and then onto the week itself.

I personally think it was one of the best Feast Weeks in recent years. The Bingo night once again catered for all ages and 'George Michael' was a big hit on Thursday night. Entertainment Night did fantastically well. Then it was 'bouncing all Saturday night' to the BIG...BIG sound of BIG 10! I had petitioned long and hard for them to perform at Feast Week and the wait was worth it.

This year's Summer Grand Draw, Congratulations to the winners: 1st Mr Twigger of Church End, 2nd Mr Ruddy, Kidmans and 3rd Mr Parsons, Flackdale.

The new committee, with Sharon Walker as Chair will soon be off and running! No doubt November will see the start of Feast Week Fundraisers that are held throughout the year and help finance putting Hilton Feast Week. Your continued attendance and support is vital.

November will see the Feast Week Committee supporting 'Hilton Fire Work Display' with their fantastic burgers, hot food and beverages. Followed no doubt by the ever popular Quiz in November – Please check the Hilton Village Website for details closer to the time. <http://www.hilton-village.com/>

I've had 5 very happy years with Feast Week and thanks to the hard work and support of the FW Committee I stand down as Chair and from the Committee leaving Feast Week in better shape than when I found it. I leave it in the safe hands of the very glamorous new Chair, Sharon Walker, the existing Committee and some 'soon to be announced' new members.

I wish them continued success and hope they have as much fun as I have had. See you all at the upcoming fundraisers and 'the right side of the bar' at FW 2013. Keep checking the Hilton Village Website and your Spectrum for more detail.

CHUTNEY

The day that me mother made chutney,
That's a day that I'll never forget.
It's been forty years in the eating
And we've still got ninety jars yet.

The vinegar came in a tanker,
The mustard seed came in a sack,
And eight or nine artie lorries
Dumped twelve tons of apples out back.

When she started to boil up that chutney,
The 'ole 'ouse o' chutney did reek,
Even t' cat smelt o' chutney
And went off 'is food for a week.

We had sixteen saucepans full o' chutney,
And it sizzled and pobbled and spat.
Were so strong we 'ad t' wear gas masks,
- All us, including the cat.

It dissolved all the paint off t' ceiling,
It corroded the back of the fridge,
It hung like a cloud in the garden
Where it killed t' occasional midge

We daren't sleep for t' fear that t' chutney
From out of its saucepan might creep
And slither upstairs to us bedroom
And strangle us all in us sleep.

At last all t' chutney were ready,
The splut'ring and 'issing could stop
And every available jam jar
Were chutney filled up to the top.

Pretty soon we had run out of jam jars
Tho' we 'ad got seven 'undred and two
So t' kettle were filled with us chutney
And the sink and the washbasin too.

Then finally we plucked up us courage
And intrepidly we took a taste,
T' chutney were - strewth! - pretty awful
- But chutney's too good to waste.

So we thought of a host of good uses
For this pungent inedible goo,
It filled up the cracks in t' ceiling
And were super for cleaning the loo!

The day that me mother made chutney,
That's a day I will never forget.
It's been forty three years in the eating
And we've still got ninety jars yet.

MAKING EVERY MOMENT COUNT

The work of the Arthur Rank Hospice goes on day after day, night after night, seven days a week and fifty-two weeks of the year.

It is a service provided absolutely free to all and any adult suffering from a life limiting condition and needing support and care.

Our staff and volunteers work tirelessly to give full expression to the phrase "making every moment count". We enrich the lives of patients and families alike with our devoted care and attention be it for an in-patient in the hospice itself, in the patient's home, or on a day care basis, including therapies, counselling, treatments and physiotherapy etc. In addition we offer extra services to support the family with relief companionship through to bereavement counselling.

Our volunteer drivers cover thousands of miles a year transporting patients to and fro treatment centres and our Chaplain co-ordinates the work of other spiritual counsellors from twenty other denominations. In addition our volunteers provide essential in house services such as the tea bar, gardening and as Ward Assistants amongst many others.

The Arthur Rank Hospice is well known throughout the area and we believe that many people know of the charity either because of their own family's experience or that of a friend or neighbour. It is a privilege to work with so many people from communities and villages and I welcome this opportunity on behalf of our staff and volunteers to thank our many other supporters who by making donations or raising funds help us to continue our work and maintain the high standard of excellence we seek to provide.

There are many ways in which to support the Hospice and our web site sets out the various options for your support.

We have also found that leaving a gift in your will to help the work of the Charity can be immensely important and valuable. Your gift, of any size, can truly help us 'make every moment count'.

Visit arhc.org.uk to find out more about our work and how you might be able to help support the charity. Look for advice on how to leave a legacy.

The annual 'Love in a box' scheme

For those of you in Fenstanton and Hilton keen to support this year's 'Love in a Box' scheme we would like to confirm that we are running this again in the Autumn. This will be our 9th year of sending gift boxes from our villages to underprivileged children, which this year will be to Romania, Moldova and the Ukraine.

Please collect shoeboxes and suitable items, such as stationery, toys and sweets. Knitted hats, gloves and scarves are the only clothes welcomed by the scheme so, if you have talents to knit/crochet, these would be appreciated. Each box should target a boy or girl and an age-group (3-5, 6-11 and 12-15 years) and be filled with goodies and wrapped in Christmas paper.

Gift filled shoeboxes are collected for the charity 'Mustard Seed Relief Missions' who distribute them to orphans in time for Christmas. Information and spare copies of the charity's leaflets will be available from Jenny or Alison in September.

The boxes are then collected from us early in November and transported onwards using volunteers. Therefore a contribution towards their transport is requested. This may be around £3 this year. Any monies for the charity we receive are passed on to support their work, if this is how you prefer to support them.

With thanks, Jenny Stimpson (c/o the Fenstanton United Reformed Church and the 2nd Fenstanton Brownies) and Alison Fox (c/o Fen Drayton Primary School)

The Butterflies of Cambridgeshire

The Huntingdonshire Local Group of the Wildlife Trust, invite you to an absorbing talk on a subject that is of special interest to very many people - Butterflies. Our presentation will concentrate on those found in our area and will be held on Wednesday 10th October.

Our host will be Louise Bacon, who records butterflies for the Cambridgeshire and Essex branch of Butterfly Conservation. Louise has had a life-long love of wildlife leading to many positions of responsibility with local conservation organisations. Louise will lead us on a tour through the butterflies of this county, introducing our resident species and their key sites. Then, using both local and national monitoring, Louise will look at migrants and lost species and examine the impact of changing butterfly fortunes.

Please meet at Brampton Memorial Hall, Thrapston Road, Brampton, PE28 4TB at 7.30pm. For further details contact: Phil Clark on 07894708352 or Philip@philandruth.plus.com.

ELSWORTH PRE-SCHOOL

The Pre-School started back last week with many of the children from last year and some new children. The children are settling back in to the routine. Alongside the free play, the children love the structured activities such as baking, craft and circle time. Every session the children sit in the circle to tell the others about something they have brought from home. It might be a photograph, a picture or a favourite toy.

For parents of children at the pre-school there will be an Annual General Meeting on 4th October at 7.30 to elect a new committee. If you would like to get involved then please come along.
